- 1. It has been suggested that American magazines and paperback books might be distributed to certain tourists on their way to the USSR just before their departure.
- 2. The briefing could include an oral (not written) statement something like the following:

on the seat of your bas or plane you will find a small package of paperback books and magazines. These are a gift for your own personal use from the travel agency which arranged your trip. You will find, however, that the Soviet citizens you meet will be as interested in your country as you are in theirs and will, therefore, be interested in these American paperback books or magazines. You may choose to give some of them to Soviet altizens you meet, you may choose simply to leave them in your hotel room, when you have finished reading them, but in any case, you can be sure that they will be read with interest by the Soviet citizens who acquire them.

As Soviet citizens are avid and enthusiastic readers, you may even make friends who would like other books as gifts which you will want to mail them after you return to the West.
